

Model never writes coordinates or scores; every output carries its source and a fallback flag; disabling the interface reproduces the strict branch.

Boundary choice runs per segment before merging; the independent loose sparse branch is disabled in this version.